

ACCOMMODATIONS

Accommodating Adults with Disabilities in Adult Education Programs

Second Edition

University of Kansas
Center for Research on Learning
Division of Adult Studies

This Notebook, "Accommodating Adults with Disabilities in Adult Education Programs," was developed through a project funded by the USDE National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research.

© 2005 University of Kansas Center for Research on Learning

Table of Contents

	page
Overview	7
(orange tab)
Implementation
Guide	15
(purple tab)
AE Handbook	47
(green tab)
Learner Handbook	83
(yellow tab)
Procedural Guide	93
(red tab)
TARGET Self-Advocacy
Strategy	185
(pink tab)
Compendium	221
(blue tab)
Index	253
(gray tab)

Acknowledgements

The project staff offers our sincere thanks to the state directors of adult education, project consultants, participants in our first symposium, and Resource Team members (Jim Budde, Gary Clark, Don Deshler, Winnie Dunn, Pat Eakes, Dianne Glass, Rosemary Lischka, Ray Petty, Jan Sellen) who provided feedback on the contents of this notebook. We also thank the instructors from the six centers of the Kansas City Kansas Community College Adult Studies Advancement Program who pilot-tested these materials. Staff at the following adult education centers participated in our national field test and provided valuable feedback on the content, format and usefulness of the materials:

- ◇ Gary Tang Adult Education Center, Glendale, AZ
- ◇ Baldwin Park Adult & Continuing Education, Baldwin Park, CA
- ◇ Adult Education Center, Clarkston, GA
- ◇ Covington Adult Learning Center, Covington, KY
- ◇ Mulberry Helm. Elizabethtown, KY
- ◇ Ronald Hubbs Center for Lifelong Learning, St. Paul, MN
- ◇ Gladstone Community Education, Maplewood, MN
- ◇ Jackson Public School District, Adult/Community Education, Jackson, MS
- ◇ Catholic Social Services Family Education Department, Albuquerque, NM
- ◇ ARIN Intermediate Unit 28, Shelocta, PA

Dr. Sean Sweeney, our NIDRR project officer, was always available to answer questions and provide suggestions on project activities. In addition, other individuals, whose names do not appear elsewhere, were instrumental in the success of this project, including: Alicia Bartol, Keri Bodensteiner, Amy Keefe, Bill Langner, Ruth Leibowitz, Amy Luebbers, Belinda Schuman, Julie Tollefson, Candie White and Beth Zupancic. We would especially like to acknowledge Noelle Kurth for her work on the design and layout of the Notebook materials.

Research associates included Janis Bulgren, Mary Pat Gilbert, Betty Horton, Kathy Parker and Cheryl Polson. Warren White and Daryl Mellard were co-principal investigators.

Inquires should be directed to : Jean Hall, Division of Adult Studies, 1122 West Campus Road, JR Pearson Hall, Room 517, University of Kansas, Lawrence, KS 66045, (785) 864-4780 or to the project website at das.kucrl.org

This project, "Research and Demonstration of a Model for Successfully Accommodating Adults with Disabilities in Adult Education Programs," was a collaborative effort among faculty and staff at the University of Kansas and Kansas State University. The project was 100% funded by the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research from September 1, 1995 to August 31, 1998 at $175,000 each year.

Project Staff

Janis A. Bulgren, Ph.D. is an Associate Scientist at the University of Kansas Center for Research on Learning (KU-CRL) and Courtesy Assistant Professor of Special Education. Her research has focused on developing and validating instructional methods for use by teachers whose classes contain students of diverse abilities. Instructional methods focus on ways to help all students understand information, develop thinking skills, interact with others, and achieve higher levels of success.

Mary Pat Gilbert, MS, OTR is an instructor in the Occupational Therapy Education Program at the University of Kansas Medical Center. She spent 14 years in clinical practice working with adults with blindness and low vision. She is currently working toward completion of a master's degree in Adult and Continuing Education.

Jean Hall, Ph.D., formerly a Project Coordinator and now Principal Investigator at the University of Kansas Center for Research on Learning. Jean's background includes providing advocacy, job skills training and assistive technology services for people with a variety of disabilities. Jean is especially interested in legal issues as they affect people with disabilities. She is also the proud mother of triplets.

Betty Talley Horton, Ph.D. received her doctorate from the University of Texas at Austin in Vocational Rehabilitation and Special Education. Betty's research and writing interest in the transition of young adults with disabilities into successful employment and adult living spans nearly twenty years.

Daryl Mellard, Ph.D. has worked on issues regarding assessment, instructional, transitional, and vocational services to youth and adults with disabilities. He is currently working on research projects in adult education and literacy programs. The projects will improve accommodations and instruction in adult education and literacy programs, the screening for learning disabilities, and the success of persons with learning disabilities and severe emotional disabilities on the GED. Of greater interest though, are his family: Ellen (spouse), Jarad, Ashley, and Kelsey (children) and hobbies of fishing, gardening, hunting, and soccer.

Kathy Parker, MS, OTR, is a teaching associate in the Occupational Therapy Education Program at the University of Kansas Medical Center. She holds a master's degree in Adult and Continuing Education from Kansas State University. She spent twelve years in clinical practice working with persons with physical disabilities both in the community and in rehabilitation settings.

